RESISTANCE MANIFESTED

Trainmen Impatient as Railway Heads Delay Action.

ASKING GUARANTEES.

Executives Holding Out for Promise of Increase in Freight Rates — Leaders Restive.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The strike menace is at its most acute stage. President Wilson informed the railway executives yesterday he could not guarantee at this session of Congress the legislation exacted in return for conceding the eight-hour day. He was then confronted with this proposal:

1. That the compensation the men shall receive under the eight-hour day will be arbitrated; or,

2. That the President guarantee he will approve an increase in freight rates sufficient to offset the increased cost of operation.

The President is derlared to have repeated his original promise to use his personal and political influence, but stopped at that. When the committee left the White House both sides were deadlocked.

The delay angered the brotherhood leaders. They started to pack and go home. The move was construed as a silent threat to call a strike at once. This information reached the White House and the President sent a messenger hurriedly to the camp of the leaders with the request that they remain at least another day.

Secretary Tumulty was sent to the headquarters of the executives with a request that the subcommittee return to the White House. The President wanted to tell them, it is said, that he expected an answer from them upon which a solution could be based by Saturday night.

The brotherhoods, on hearing of the near-ultimatum abandoned their plans to leave. By this means only was a dangerous crisis averted.

The railway executives are pressing their charge that a deep political game is being played from the White House with the hope that success will have a favorable credit at the November election. A well equipped press bureau has been established and a steady stream of "copy" intended to influence public opinion against the President's demands is being issued.

Notwithstanding this situation President Wilson announced at the Cabinet meeting that he expected an amicable settlement of the controversy in a few hours.

Before the executives went into conference last night one of them said:

"We have taken into consideration, in arriving at a common understanding, that we are the trustees of $17,000,000,000 of property and of the transportation system of the country. We have determined that we must maintain the integrity of our trusteeship."

TURKS GIVE UP CITY OF BITLIS

Russians Following Fall of Mush, Resume Their Advance.

ARE ON TO ASIA MINOR

Turkish Divisions Recently Defeated in Direction of Mosul, Being Pursued.

Petrograd, Aug. 26—It is announced that the Russians have resumed their advance along the entire Asiatic front.

The Turks have evacuated Bitlis.

An earlier report said the Russians were continuing their attacks west of Lake Van, where the recapture of Mush was announced last night.

"Our offensive west of Lake Van is continuing," the statement said. "In the direction of Mosul, we are pursuing the remnant of the dispersed Turkish divisions."

The Turkish attempt to encircle the left flank of the Russian Caucasian army appears to have received a crushing blow from the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas in the region of Lake Van. The Turkish encircling scheme, aimed at regaining Erzerum and thus nullifying all the Grand Duke's victories in Turkish Armenia, appeared about to succeed, but the Russian reoccupation of Mush and reestablishment of Russian positions positions west of Lake Van apparently has made hopeless the Turkish efforts.

The initiative now appears again to be with the Russians at all important points in Asia Minor, and now that the Turkish offensive on the left flank has been stopped Grand Duke Nicholas can continue his march toward Asia Minor.

The turning point came soon after the Turkish occupation of Mush when the Russian line in that neighborhood stiffened suddenly. The battle begun then continued uninterruptedly until yesterday, when the Turkish forces, despite their reported superiority in numbers, fell back under the Russian assault, conducted from the regions of Melasguerd and Gnishala, and left Mush again in Russian hands.

The defeat of this group of the Turkish forces is considered by military critics here to be of great importance, because on the Turkish ability to hold Mush and use it as a base of operations against the Russian left wing the success of their entire campaign in this region was predicated.

The break between progressives and reactionary Republicans which started in California has swept to the east and is now confounding the Hughes campaign managers. Open hostilities have been declared in Pennsylvania, where neither side any longer attempts to conceal the growing bitterness of the conflict.

Harry K. Thaw, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, of Pittsburgh, has been spending this week in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia.

TALKS WITH ADVERTISERS

In his early days, when he was editor of a paper in Missouri, Mark Twain received a letter from a subscriber, saying that he had found a spider in his paper and asking him whether it was sign of good or bad luck.

Mr. Twain answered the letter as follows:

"Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck or bad luck to you. The spider was merely looking over the columns of our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and a lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

The merchant in Alexandria who fails to tell the readers of the Daily Gazette what they should know in regard to his stock of merchandise, is making a mistake. Enterprising, wide-awake, successful business men GET BUSINESS by advertising, in these days, and no spider gets a chance to spin a web across their door.

DEVILED & HARD SHELL CRABS AT JACOB FRILL'S FOOT KING ST

SENT TO THE GRAND JURY.

R. F. Wilson Alleged to Have taken $7 From Person of Benjamin Robertson.

Some excitement was caused at the lower end of King street last night by the loud talk of several men, a charge having been made that a man named Benjamin Robertson had had his pocket picked of a pocketbook containing seven dollars. Sergeant Scott and Officer Campbell soon appeared and arrested a man named R. F. Wilson, upon charges preferred by two young men, Alexandrians, who alleged Wilson had taken Robertson money.

The case came before the Police Court this morning, when the evidence substantially, was as follows: Robertson said he was in the neighborhood in an intoxicated condition, and was unable to say who had obtained his money. He said he had perfect faith in Wilson and was satisfied he intended returning the money after he (Robertson) became sober.

Two young men, however, told stories which controverted this assumption. They stated that Wilson, before the money had been missed, alleged that some person had robbed the drunken man. The two young men made indignant denial of participation in such an act, and began to turn their pockets inside-out in order to prove their assertions. They suggested that Wilson do the same, and he turned all the pockets of his garments except one. He thrust his hand into that pocket and withdrew a card, saying, "You see this is all in this pocket." The young men, however, insisted that he turn it inside-out, also, which Wilson refused to do, when the two men took hold of him and declared they intended satisfying themselves of his honesty, before allowing him to leave the scene. One of the young men in the tussle ran his hand in the inside pocket of Wilson's coat and brought out the pocketbook with its contents.

Wilson in his voluntary statement to the court alleged that he had no intention of keeping Robertson's money, but would have returned it.

The accused was held for the action of the grand jury.

Capt. Edgar J. Spratling, of F company, Fifth regiment, national guard of Georgia, was shot and killed yesterday in his tent at the State mobilization camp near Macon, Ga., Mrs. H. C. Adams, an Atlanta woman, who, according to officers at the camp, accused the guardsman captain of having acted wrongly toward her. At the Bibb county jail last night Mrs. Adams asserted in the presence of county officials that Capt. Spratling, who in private life was a physician, had caused her to shoot him by attentions paid to her while she was in his office in Atlanta for treatment.

CRUELTY TO HIS WIFE

Drunken Negro Causes Considerable Excitement in the Northwest Last Night.

A negro named Joseph Kemp was in the Police Court yesterday morning to answer the charge of drunken and disorderly conduct. His only answer to the statement of the officer was that he "was full of whiskey". He was fined $5, which he paid. At a late hour last night Officer Campbell and Reed had their attention attracted by disorderly procedures in the northwestern section of the city, and upon reaching the scene of the disturbance they found Kemp again upon the rampage. His wife was the object of his vengeance, and he had literally stood the unfortunate woman upon her head, to the disgust of the entire neighborhood, which had been aroused by the procedure. The officers rescued the woman from her husband and placed the latter under arrest.

Kemp was arraigned in the Police Court this morning to answer two charges—drunken and disorderly conduct and assault upon his wife. He made no answer to the allegation, but stood in the dock as mute as the Sphinx of Egypt. The court expressed regret that there is no whipping post law for such offenders in Virginia, and imposed a fine of $10, $5 for each offense. He failed to pay the assessments and will be sent to jail for forty days, subject to conscription upon the public roads.

GREEKS ATTACKED BY THE BULGARS

Port of Kaval and Town of Drama Are Now Under Fire

BRITISH IN FIGHTS

Out-Maneuver Enemy and Blow Up Three Railroad Bridges Over the Angista River.

Paris, Aug. 26. —The Bulgarians have attacked the Greek Port of Kavala and the important Greek town of Drama, both held by Greek garrisons, says a War Office statement last night.

The landing of Italian troops at Saloniki has now been completed, the statement adds, and the transports which brought the men have returned to Italy.

London, Aug. 26.—The British and Bulgarians have been in touch on the Macedonian front northeast of Saloniki. British troops, despite the Bulgarian fire, destroyed three bridges over the Angista, in the vicinity of Kuchuk, the War Office announces.

Fighting betwen Bulgarians and Greeks, principally at Seres, has been reported in news dispatches from Greece for several days past. The French War Office statement, however, is the first official confirmation. On August 22, Athens announced that Germany and Bulgaria had given a written undertaking to Greece, that their troops would not enter Kavala, Drama or Seres.

The Bulgarian advance on Greek territory since the opening of the Allied offensive has caused a profound sensation in Greece.

2 MILES OF COMBLES

French Successfully Withstand Attacks on Newly-Won Positions Near Maurepas.

London, Aug. 26. — While the French were withstanding heavy German counter-attacks yesterday on the positions newly won in the vicinity of Maurepas, the British were pushing their lines forward near Delville Wood, several hundred yards being gained, according to the official statement issued here.

The Germans have made a new assault on the French line at the top of the famous salient of St. Mihiel, but have been repulsed after a footing in French trenches, according to tonight's French War Office statement.

The complete occupation of Maurepas brings the French and the English advanced lines on the Somme within two miles of Combles, the advance on which is greatly aided by this forward movement. Maurepas formed one of the principal supporting points between the Somme and the highway from Albert to Bapaume and also was an important strategic base by reason of its situation on a plateau dominating the region toward the south.

The Germans have placed on the line against the French between Hardecourt and Clery the fifth division of Bavarian reserves and the first division of the Prussian guards. This guard division is commanded in person by Prince Eitel Frederich, second son of the German Emperor, and took part in the fighting at Maurepas.

Guillemont, where the English have made progress, is being defended by the Kaiser Wilhelm II Regiment of Wuerttemberg.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The capture of Maurepas, on the Somme front, by the French is recorded in the official announcement of yesterday.

BREMEN CAUGHT IN NET ?

New York News Association Gives Officer of British Ship as Authority For Report.

New York, Aug. 26.—The New York City News Association quotes "an officer of the British merchant marine," who arrived here yesterday aboard the White Star steamship Baltic, as authority for the statement that the German submarine Bremen has been captured by the British and 33 of her crew of 35 made prisoners. The Bremen, according to the account, was captured in the Straits of Dover in a steel net on August 2. Two members of her crew lost their lives.

The Bremen, it was said, while enmeshed in the net was sighted by a British patrol boat, her stern under water and her bow high above the surface. After endeavoring for a time to extricate the wreck, the patrol boat steamed away for Dover with her prisoners.

According to the officer quoted, the British government has maintained silence in regard to the capture, as another German trans-Atlantic submarine, the Amerika, was said to be on the way here, and it was hoped to capture her also.

In Memoriam.

In sad, but loving rememberance of my dear mother, Mary Kicherer, who died thirty-three years ago today, August 26:

"Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine,
O what foretaste of glory divine;
Heir of salvation, purchase of God,
Born of his spirit, washed in his blood."

"Perfect submission, all is at rest,
I, in my Saviour, am happy and blest,
Watching and waiting, looking above,
Filled with his goodness and lost in his love."

DEATH OF COL. SMITH

Well-Known and Popular Member of Alexandria Bar Passes Away Yesterday Afternoon.

Although the many friends and acquaintances of Colonel Francis L. Smith knew he was confined to his home, southeast corner of Wolfe and St. Asaph streets, by serious indisposition, and that the chances for his ultimate recovery were doubtful, they were startled when they learned that he passed away between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was probably two hours later before the news of his death had been generally circulated. His funeral will take place at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from St. Paul's church.

Francis Lee Smith was born October 6, 1845; hence he was nearing the 71st milestone of his life. He was the third son of the late Francis L. and Sarah Gosnell Vowell Smith, and at the time of his birth the family resided on Fairfax street, between Prince and Duke. In early life he was a student at the Virginia Military Institute, and while a cadet at that institution served as a Confederate soldier and was seriously wounded at the battle of Newmarket, having been shot in the neck. At the close of the war he returned to his home and became associated with his father, one of the most prominent barristers of his day. In later years the subject of this notice had climbed to a prominent position among the legal fraternity, having succeeded his father, who had been counsel of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Alexandria. At the close of the civil war the ownership of what was known as the Washington and Alexandria Railroad, extending from Princess and St. Asaph streets to the south end of the Long Bridge, became an object of contention in the courts. The late James S. French, who had been president of the company before the civil war, and parties representing the Pennsylvania Railroad interests, were the litigants and there were cases and counter-cases which hung in the courts for years. Only the best lawyers were employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and this corporation for years retained the late G. W. Bent, father of Samuel G. Brent. Upon his death in 1871 the late S. Fuerguson Beach and the late Francis L. Smith, father of the Colonel at times represented the company in Alexandria. The subject of this notice succeeded this brilliant array of legal talent, and for many years had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Company, and local counsel for the Southern Railway.

For a number of years after the war Col. Smith retained his interest in the local and state militia, having been elected captain of the Alexandria Light Infantry in 1878, major of the Third Virginia regiment in 1881, and lieutenant colonel of that organization in 1882. He was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, Society of Cincinnati, Order of Runnemede, member of the Alexandria Washington lodge of Masons R. E. Lee Camp Confederate veterans, Society of the Army of Northern Virginia, and was a director of the First National Bank.

During the readjuster regime he represented this district in the Virginia Senate, and was a member of the last constitutional convention from Alexandria. He was also a member of the Board of Aldermen from the Fourth ward during the latter part of the eighties.

Colonel Smith had been in declining health for some time. His natural force had abated, and his friends were painfully aware of the fact some time ago that the sands of his life were nearly run. He had been confined to his home recently, awaiting the call of death, whose shadow had been long upon his path.

Colonel Smith was justly esteemed by all who knew him, and throughout his long life he enjoyed the full confidence of all with whom he came in contact.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Margaret V. Smith and Mrs. Alice Strong, of New York City.

The meeting of the Alexandia Bar Association was held at 11 o'clock this morning in the corporation courtoom to take action on his death.

Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons will hold a special meeting Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to attend the funeral of their late brother, who will be buried with full Masonic honors.

RUSH AID TO OCCOQUAN

Alexandria's New Auto Fire Truck Makes Record Run to Prince William Town.

Making a record run to historic Occoquan, 17 miles south of this city, at the head of Occoquan Bay, Alexandria's new chemical automobile fire engine stayed the progress of the huge conflagration which raged in the little Virginia village yesterday afternoon and saved it from entire destruction. Wires were kept hot yesterday afternoon from Occoquan to Washington and this city asking help in controlling the fire, and the Alexandria engine was the only one to answer the call.

Word for aid was received about 1:30 o'clock here yesterday and the chemical engine was on the scene of the fire 45 minutes later.

Immediately upon the arrival of the automobile engine, the fire was put under control by the half a dozen or so Alexandria laddies who left with the engine, the first work of salvage accomplished by the local fire fighters being the saving of Janney's flour mill from destruction. Directly after this the flames were put under control, and the Alexandria engine, with its speed and easy operation, and the several firemen of this city who operated it, with their swiftness and all-round capability, were praised and lauded to the skies last night by the residents of the little town after the flames had been extinguished.

Total destruction resulted to only about eight buildings, although first advices last night were to the effect that thirty had been wiped out. Many more, however, were badly damaged. The entire loss was about $50,000, according to a statement early this morning by one of Occoquan's prominent citizens to a representative of the Gazette, but most of this is covered by insurance.

The heaviest loss was suffered by W. S. Lynn, whose general merchandise store and contents, valued at about $5,000, was included in the toll reaped by the inexorable flames. Besides this other buildings totally destroyed included the Methodist Episcopal Church, the building of the Bank of Occoquan, the Oliver Underwood property, occupied by F. B. Allen, the property owned by Dr. J. F. Carroll and occupied by W. H. Hammill, the building occupied by the Viadex Manufacturing Company, the residence of Mrs. J. Hood Weedon, and several other brick and frame residences.

It is stated that a house owned in Occoquan by Mrs. W. M. Reardon, of this city, was destroyed or irreparably damaged, but communication between Occoquan and the Gazette brought no confirmation of this.

The report that Mrs. Reardon's old home was burned to the ground was confirmed later today, however. The house owned by Mrs. Reardon, and that of the late Dr. John S. Powell, were landmarks of the historic old village.

The fire started in the residence of Mrs. Weedon, in the central portion of the town, thought to have been caused by the overturning of an oil stove, although Mrs. Weedon was absent at the time. Last week, according to announcement in the Gazette, Mrs. Weedon's daughter, Miss Virginia Weedon, after being rescued from drowning in Occoquan Bay, had her scalp torn off by the propellor shaft of a motorboat conveying her home.

As anounced above, the first work of the Alexandria engine was the extinguishing of the blazes started in the mill and store of Tyson Janney, which had only been partially under control by the emergency fire department, the "bucket brigade," of the District Workhouse.

Following were the fire fighters who made the trip from Alexandria with the chemical engine: Chief Robert E. Gronau, Raymond Catts, operator of the engine, John L. Peed, H. A. Simpson, John Clapdore, driver of the Relief truck. They state that they returned last night about 10:45 o'clock.

FIREMEN RETURN HOME

Alexandrians Profuse in Praises of Hospitality of Rockingham County.

The delegation of firemen from the three volunteer fire companies of this city who have been attending the thirteenth annual convention of the Virginia Fremen's Association in Harrisonburg, returned to Alexandria at 10:23 last night, just before the return of the big automobile engine from the conflagration at Occoquan, and were enthusiastic over the hospitality of the Rockingham county city people. None were the worse for cheer.

It had been planned for a number of the stay-at-home firemen to meet the local delegation at the union passenger depot and escort them back to the different engine houses, but, owing to the big fire at Occoquan, the ardor of the firemen in this city who did not attend the convention was dampened somewhat and besides half a dozen or more of the Alexandria laddies were fighting the flames at Occoquan.

The thirteenth annual convention of the State Firemen's Association came to a close yesterday afternoon with the reel races. The first races were open only to companies in the State association and the second was a free-for-all.

In the State races Staunton won the first prize and was awarded the custody of the association trumpet. The second prize went to Hot Springs. The contestants were Lexington, Covington, Hot Springs, Shenandoah City, Staunton, Luray and Ashwood.

In the free-for-all races the first prize was won by Hot Springs and the second by Shenandoah City.

In the band contest last night, which was open to all, Covington won.

Twenty-two fire companies, six bands, scores of automobiles and business floats took part in the street parade. The prize winners were:

Best Fire Company Without Band Winchester Friendship Company.

Best Fre Company Without Band —Hampton.

Best Business Float—J. E. Good & Son.

Best Decorated Residence—E. Purcell.

There Is Actual Newness in the New Reed and Reed-Fiber Furniture for Fall

Some things are new only so far as new meals being just constructed. This furniture is new in this respect, but it is also new in design. There are many numbers just added and never seen anywhere before. Every piece exhibits the fact that Furniture is more artistic, more homelike, more decorative and beautiful than it has been in years.

New Chairs and Rockers and a host of other new pieces. The popular light brown finish is going to be decidedly more popular this autumn, and for that reason you will find the majority of the showing in this tone.

The Reed-Fiber Rocker is priced at $9.75--a very interesting and unusual value.

Walter W. Burns has filed a second suit in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia against the Washington and Old Dominion Railway. He asks $50,000 punitive damages for injuries he says were sustained when he was ejected from one of the cars of the defendant. Burns declares in the petition that he boarded the car at his home in Franklin Park, Va., and was ejected at Thrifton, despite the fact that he had paid a cash fare of 10 cents which under the new tariff of the road should entitle him to a passage to Mackey. He further claims that he was rendered unconscious, and received permanent injuries.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION.

That prohibition in South Carolina, even when enforced with a $50,000 fund during campaign year in an effort to get those Governor running whose administration is responsible for the prohibition law, is not as effective as the prohibitionists would wish is shown by a statement issued by J. K. Breedin, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of South Carolina.

Superintendent Breedin's statement, addressed to the prohibitionists of the State, says that complaints are coming to him concerning "Jamaica ginger, malt, cider and other beverages," and that he is "impresed with the fact that no constabulary, however large, however efficient, can entirely suppress tigers unless our prohibition friends and all other good citizens become active for the enforcement of the law."

The Gazette opposed prohibition when the question was put to the voters of Virginia. A majority, however, declared in favor of makig the State dry, and, as good Democrats, bowed to the will of that majority. When the result of the election was declared we expressed the earnest wish that the new law would be enforced in letter and in spirit. We repeat that wish.

We could fill this page with amusing incidents in connection with prohibition in Alexandria during the four years' civil war. Brandy peaches, Jamaica ginger, "spiked" cider, etc., etc., were ordinary commodities, while blind tigers were everywhere. If such conditions existed when the city was under martial law with guards on every corner night and day, and no one allowed to leave or enter the city without passes from the military authorities, twenty one policemen may experience difficulty in enforcing prohibition, which becomes effective within a few weeks.

OPENING OF THE SEALS.

The Gazette during the past few weeks has on Saturdays contained an article on some Bibical topic. This, we believe, is opportune from the fact that the good people of our city are now conducting cottage prayer meetings preparatory to a series of revival services which will begin tomorrow week. A number of patrons of the Gazette have expressed their interest in the articles which have appeared weekly, and they may be continued provided other and more urgent duties do not confront us.

During the present week an evangelist who is conducting protracted meetings in this city has been delivering lectures upon the book of the Revelation. While his discourses have been practically upon lines generally followed by standard commentaries, it is a question with many people whether the momentous events set forth in this most wonderful book have been fulfilled in the occurrences of the Christian dispensation as is generally supposed. After two-score years' study of this thrilling part of holy writ, we confess we belong to a class who believe most of the book speaks of things yet to come, and that more terrible fulfillments of the forecasts are yet in store for the world.

Over three score years ago the late Rev. Elias Harrison, then pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, on south Fairfax street, delivered a series of lectures upon the opening of the seals so vividly described in the 6th chapter of the Apocalypse—the same chapter which occupied the attention of the evangelist alluded to last Wednesday night. Rev. Mr. Harrison, following in the usual rut of thought, assumed that certain events, e. g., the breaking up of the Roman Empire, rise of Mahomet, incidents in connection with the Reformation, rise of democratic forms of government, etc., etc., were meant by the thrilling pictures of the Apocalypse. This has long been the opinion expressed in standard commentaries.

It is necessary for us to print the chapter which has been the subject of these discourses:

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. And I saw, and behold a white horse: and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him; and he went forth conquering, and to conquer. And when he had opened the 2nd seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see. And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the eath, and that they should kill one another; and there was given unto him a great sword. And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine. And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see. And I looked, and behold a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the eath, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with the beasts of the earth. And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held: And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord; holy and true; dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the eath? And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also and their brethern, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled. And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo; there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood; And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind. And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men; and the chief captains; and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man; hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne; and from the wrath of the Lamb: For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

Without attempting to throw any special light upon this terible forecast, it is needless to say that no such things have happened in the history of the world, but it may be asked, is the red horse loose today? The black horse of famine, we are told, is to follow, and after it the pale horse (pale green, or gangrenous) representing death.

The words "come and see," uttered at the appearance of each equine are said to be erroneous by Bible scholars. The single word "come" is in all the earlier manuscripts, which really means "go!"

Readers of the Bible will observe that these startling events are virtually the same forecasted by the Lord Himself when He tells us that before the second advent there will be wars and rumors of wars, famines, pestilences, fearful signs from heaven and men's hearts failing them for fear of those things that are coming upon the earth. Yet He tells us these things are but the beginning of sorrows.

We are told to take heed how we hear, and another injunction is laid upon all—"Take heed that the light that is within you be not darkness," Hence these things, finally, come back upon our own judgment.

Attention may be called to the fact that any man who attempts to explain the book referred to assumes a great responsibility, as the following verses will show. They are in the last chapter, as follows:

I testify to every one who hears the words of the prophecy of this book. If any one add to them, God will add to him those plagues written in this book. And if any one take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city.

The real meaning being that should any person attempt to lessen the force of these words, or give them a meaning not intended, will bring upon himself the disfavor of heaven.

A Good Suggestion.

Editor Gazette:

An opinion exists in the minds of a great many of our leading business men, which is freely expressed, that the prohibition law going into effect on November 1st, is going to hit Alexandria particularly hard, owing to our nearness to Washington, and no doubt this is a very reasonable conclusion. But this should not be. The business men of Alexandria did not bring about this condition, therefore, we do not believe the people of Alexandria will forsake them as some seem to think, especially if our business men will make their places of business attractive to the public.

On the other hand, if every person in Alexandria will spend the time that is required in going to and from Washington, in investigating the stores in Alexandria, they will be able to secure their needs to their entire satisfaction, we believe, and will encourage the merchants of Alexandria to carry a more complete stock in their respective lines. If our people will help the merchants by patronizing them, they will soon be able to supply all demands and thus all will help to make Alexandria what it should be, equal to the best small city in the land.

And if you, Mr. Reader, think so and "boost" it, others will think the same as you. I think Alexandria is the best city that I have ever lived in, and I know there are many others here who feel the same, especially those who have lived in other cities of this size. Don't knock, but let's boost. It costs nothing and will help to build up Alexandria.

E. Gorman Ridgely.

Henry J. Furber, 71 yeas old, formerly a prominent attorney and real estate operator, shot and killed himself in St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, yesterday. He had been a patient there for several years. Mr. Furber left a fortune estimated at $6,000,000. Mr. Furber is said to have been depressed by prolonged illness and the recent heat wave.

As a heavy thunderstorm broke over Lake Waramaug, in New Preston, Conn., and a bolt hit and set fire to two buildings near the shore a squall upset a canoe in which were Paul Smith, 24 years old, treasurer of the Orange Bank and Trust Company, of West Haven, and his fiance, Miss Helen L. Hawley, 23, of West Hartford. Miss Hawley was drowned.

In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Alexandria evidence of their worth.

Mrs. Minnie E. Posey, 125 Duke street, Alexandria, says: "La Grippe left my kidneys in a bad way. My back ached so badly that I could hardly endure it and I couldn't rest in any position. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and caused me a great deal of misery. I felt tired and languid all the time and my head ached so badly and I felt so dizzy that I could hardly get around. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Warfield's Drug Store, and since then my kidneys have given me little trouble. My back has never ached and my health has been good."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Posey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

According to a dispatch from Berlin the estimates, gathered from the chief agricultural sections of the German and Austro-Hungarian empires, point to the conclusion that Germany (outside of the occupied territory and not counting shipments of grain from Roumania) will garner a harvest exceeding the 1915 yield by fully 70 per cent.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A protocol amplifying the financial, economical and administrative treaty with Haiti, has been signed by Secretary of State Lansing and Minister Menos. The most important addition to the treaty is the provision that the native police force is to be officered by Americans. The treaty provides for an American receiver general of customs receipts, an American financial adviser and an American engineer for sanitation and general improvements. It prohibits any increase of debt or sale of territory. A protocol is to be drawn up to settle all foreign debts by arbitration. Secretary of State Lansing and Solon Menos signed a protocol, under the terms of which the United States will establish a financial protectorate over the island. Secretary Lansing refused to give out the detail of the protocol until it has been ratified by the Senate.

"Captain Eddie" Martin, known throughout Maryland as a "progressive," who for many years fought Dr. George Wells, accidentally shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon on the shores of Cat Hole creek, near Annapolis. The fatal accident followed a day of squirrel hunting. Captain Martin many years ago was the commander in the Maryland oyster navy, being captain of the police boat May Brown.
